The International College of Neuropsychopharmacology (CINP) is a truly global organization established over 60 years ago in Zurich, Switzerland. Our community connects biologists, researchers, psychiatrists, neurologists, pharmacologists and psychologists from over 50 countries worldwide, thus enabling clinicians to hear about the latest advances in research and novel treatments, and researchers to learn about new clinical needs and challenges.

As the leading global society in our field, we collaborate actively with numerous peer group organisations and offer our members the chance to participate in specialist educational sessions and a flourishing mentor/mentee programme. Our annual World Congress acts as a forum for interdisciplinary discussion of recent breakthroughs and developments and incorporates a dedicated track for early career clinicians and researchers, including opportunities to network with global leaders in the field.

We are a diverse and inclusive community that is committed to increasing opportunities for all our members to collaborate and connect; to further their knowledge and influence our chosen field. Please join us and experience the benefits of CINP membership for yourself!
