

CINP 2024 - The 35th CINP World Congress of Neuropsychopharmacology

Meet the Expert

Meet the Experts in CINP 2024

These ‘workshop’ sessions are designed to be extremely interactive and to give early-mid career clinicians and scientists the opportunity to discuss challenging cases with a group of renowned experts in the field.

Participants should bring along a case study, which they will have the chance to present (5-minute presentation; max 5 slides). This presentation will be followed by an open discussion between the experts, during which contributions from other audience members are actively encouraged. We envisage discussing four or five cases during the session.

We envisage that these sessions will be very popular; make sure you’re there in good time as places will be allocated on a ‘first come first served basis.’

All participants of CINP 2024 are free to participate.

Please go directly to the room (G502 or G510) of one of the sessions you wish to attend. Registration opens 30 minutes before the session starts.
